ROANOKE DELEGATES COME IN

Rules of the Colored Men's Convention Complied With.

The Local Members Still Wary of Their Out-of-Town Brethren Upon the Political Position They Will Assume—Committees Will be Heard From To-day, and Some Discussion May Arise.

The second day's session of the conference of the colored citizens of Fifth, Sixth, Ninth and Tenth Congressional districts of Virginia, convened at 10 o'clock yesterday at Davis' Hall on Gainsborough avenue, with 42 delegates in attendance. The Roanoke delegation twenty strong, was on hand and asked to be admitted to the conference, but that body adhered to the report of the committee on credentials and refused to allow Roanoke but seven delegates and the local colored men withdrew and left the body to shape the destinies of the colored race without their assistance.

The committee on permanent organization reported the following officers: Chairman, W. C. Martin, of Henry; vice chairman, J. A. Crockett, of Wytheville; secretary, Robert Cox, of Lynchburg; assistant secretary, W. L. Anderson, of Lynchburg. On motion these gentlemen were elected without serious opposition.

A. J. Crowe objected to the election of these officers on technical grounds but the objection was overruled.

The following resolutions offered by T. J. Edmonson, chairman of the conference committee, were adopted:

"Resolved, That the chairman appoint the following standing committees to consider and report to the body such matters as may be referred to said committees:

"First—Rules of order of business.

"Second—A higher education of the negro.

"Third—The public school system and the effect on the race.

"Fourth—The negro as a laborer and agriculturist.

"Fifth—The moral status of the race.

"Sixth—The general industrial progress of the race.

"Seventh—Commerce and trade.

"Eighth—Political history of the freedmen since emancipation.

"Ninth—The financial status of the race.

"Tenth—Plans for permanent, general and subordinate organization.

"Eleventh—The judiciary.

"Twelfth—Raising funds to defray the expenses of the conference."

After some discussion of the foregoing resolutions the conference adjourned to meet again at 8 o'clock in Davis' Hall instead of the Old Opera House as was announced. During the afternoon the Roanoke delegation held a caucus and decided to accept the terms of the conference and go into the meeting with seven delegates.

The conference was called to order at 8 o'clock, and the committee on credentials reported the following delegates present from Roanoke who were admitted: T. T. Henry, W. A. Merchant, John H. Davis, Dr. R. J. Bowen, M. Berts, J. T. Oatmeal and Frederick Hannibus. Under the rule no delegate was allowed to occupy the floor longer than ten minutes. William Merchant occupied his time in explaining the conduct of the Roanoke contingent, and J. A. Crockett, of Wythe, followed in defending the convention.

The chair announced that it had been published to the world that the political status of the negro would be discussed and if any political matter arose let it come.

At this juncture a collection was taken up, and while that interesting proceeding was in progress the solo, "Slavery is Dead," was rendered by Delegate Crowell, of Pennsylvania, the whole delegation joining in the refrain and keeping time with their feet on the floor. The chair then read the order of business for the day, which included chiefly the reports from the committees appointed at the morning session. A motion to admit Rev. Jones and Rev. Brown to the deliberations of the body was lost and numerous motions to adjourn were voted down.

The Roanoke delegation showed an evident reluctance to allow any political debate to take place at this time and in this position they were backed by a number of others. At 10 o'clock the conference adjourned to meet at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

The most interesting and important matter to-day will unquestionably be the discussion of the reports on the judiciary and the political history of the conference.

WILLIAMS GETS A JUDGEMENT.

But It Was Set Aside and the Case Continued.

The entire day in the Hastings Court was occupied yesterday in the trial of the suit of W. C. Williams vs. Bartlett. Bolling, for $500 claimed to be due Williams for repairs done on the stable owned by Bartlett and occupied by Bolling. Scott and Staples appeared for the plaintiff and Griffin and Glasgow represented the defendant. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for a judgement of $436.42. Mr. Glasgow then moved that the verdict be set aside on the grounds that the instructions of the court were disregarded. The motion was entertained by the court and the case will again be tried. The other cases on the docket for yesterday were postponed. The suits on the docket of the circuit court for trial yesterday were continued and court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

WEAVER WAS THE THIEF.

Mrs. Stafford Recovers Part of the $345 Stolen From Her.

Henry Weaver, an aged white man, who was arrested several days ago for stealing $345 from Mrs. Cora Stafford, wife of Lawyer J. L. Stafford, of the firm of Brand & Stafford, was tried yesterday morning by Judge Turner at the police court and sent on the grand jury. The money which was stolen comprised six $50 bills, a $20 bill and $25 in small currency. Mrs. Stafford suspected Weaver at the time of the theft, which occurred the first of April last, but as she had no positive evidence he was not arrested. He was very closely watched though, and when it became known that Weaver had been spending money very fast at his home in the Back creek country, Mr. Stafford had a search warrant issued, which was executed by the deputy, A. S. Tice.

He found at Weaver's house four pocketbooks containing about $50. Since the time of the theft he had bought a horse from Mr. Ray, and other things to the value of about $50. These facts lead to his arrest the 1st of September and at his trial yesterday morning, the evidence being very strong, the case ended with the above-named result. Bail was fixed in the sum of $1,000 but as he was unable to give it, he was remanded to jail.

Mrs. Stafford will only recover about $165 of the amount stolen.

Other Police Court Items.

Mrs. L. C. Hazlewood was sent to the grand jury by Judge Turner yesterday for selling intoxicating liquors without a license. She was bailed in the sum of $200.

Tom Davis, a colored man, was tried for stealing a double barreled shotgun from a colored man named Boyd. There being no evidence introduced showing that Davis stole the gun he was dismissed.

B. W. Dunn, for being drunk, was fined $5.

W. G. Wade paid $2.50 for being disorderly on the street. Fred Stienburger was fined a like amount for fighting. The case against Joe and Amanda Johnson for fighting was continued.

NO MURDER AT ALL.

Robert Mills and Lucy Jones, Both Colored, Had a Little Falling Out.

The inhabitants of the extreme northeastern portion of the city in the section on Ninth and Tenth avenues known in local parlance as "possum trot," were aroused last night by the alarm that a murder had been committed and in a short time the neighborhood was in a state of considerable excitement. The story was to the effect that Robert Mills, a young colored man, had killed Lucy Jones a young woman of the same hue, by cutting her throat from ear to ear. Several police officers and a large number of citizens mostly colored, began to search for the body but neither the man nor the woman could be found.

As nearly as can be ascertained the facts are that Robert, who is generally credited with being Lucy's lover, had ordered her, under penalty of death, to keep away from the house of Henry Alexander, on Zion's hill, and last night about 8 o'clock, on finding she was there, started out with a knife and a picket from a fence in his hands swearing he would have her life's blood.

He came to Alexander's house, called her out and ran with her into the street, where he knocked her down with the picket, swore at her considerably and made her walk away with him. The last seen of them they were walking up Ninth avenue, the modern Othello brandishing his knife, with Desdemona meekly following.

ROANOKE AND SOUTHERN MEETING.

Stockholders Re-elect the Same Officers and Add Three New Directors.

The stockholders of the Roanoke and Southern Railway Company met yesterday at 1:30 o'clock at the Hotel Roanoke to hold the annual meeting, but owing to the absence of Col. A. J. Hemphill, who arrived on a later train, an adjournment was held until 3:30 o'clock. There was a large number of the stockholders present among whom were: Col. A. J. Hemphill, of Philadelphia; P. P. Watson and Col. J. H. Spencer, of Martinsville.

The following officers and board of directors were elected:

E. H. Fries, of Winston, N. C., president; H. S. Trout, of Roanoke, first vice-president; Gen. John Gill, of Baltimore, second vice-president; Col. J. H. Spencer, of Martinsville, third vice-president. Board of directors: J. W. Fries, C. H. Fogle and T. L. Vaughan, of Winston; P. P. Watson and J. H. Matthews, of Martinsville; S. W. Jamison, Jos. T. Engleby, E. H. Stewart and R. H. Buckner, of Roanoke; B. F. Hanes, J. E. Gilmer, R. J. Reynolds, J. W. Hanes, J. A. Gray and H. L. Riggins, of Winston.

The new officers are the same as the old ones and the new directory is the same as the previous one with the exception of the addition of three new directors, T. L. Vaughan, B. F. Hanes and H. L. Riggins.

The board of directors will meet this morning at 8:30 o'clock at Hotel Roanoke for the purpose of transacting any business that may need attention.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew's.

The annual meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will convene this week at Detroit, Mich., when 1,200 delegates will be present to participate in the deliberations of the body. The citizens of Detroit will give the entire delegation a free excursion to Chicago during the session. W. D. Stuart, of this city, left yesterday to attend the meeting in the interest of the brotherhood of Roanoke.

Some Words to a Preacher.

God himself cannot make a world in which the saurian exists side by side with man. Saurians are the best possible forms of life at one stage, yet impossible at the next.—Baccalaureate Sermon of Rev. Dr. Rainsford of New York Before the Harvard Graduating Class, June 18.

Here is an error. For man can exist side by side with the saurian, and there is scientific ground for believing that he was a contemporary of saurians which became extinct ages upon ages ago.

What we chiefly desire to say at this moment, however, is that we object to the habit in which many preachers, including Dr. Rainsford, indulge of telling their hearers that "God himself cannot" do something or other. There is no mortal who knows of the divine power or who can form any conception of it. It is infinite and eternal, words which are beyond the comprehension of the human intellect. By looking through a telescope Dr. Rainsford may behold some of the works of God which he cannot compass with reason or imagination, and he need not look beyond the earth upon which he treads to behold others more than can be numbered. But even with those instruments that search the heavens and the earth man can form no idea, gain no knowledge of the divine power.

It was Zophar, the Naumathite, who, in ancient times, put to Job that solemn question, "Canst thou by searching find out God?" And again: "High as heaven, what canst thou do? Deeper than hell, what canst thou know? Vain man would be wise, though he be born like a wild ass' colt."

We regard it as irreverent in the extreme for any man to say, "God cannot." The words are blasphemous.—New York Sun.

National Bureau of Health.

The move of the New York Academy of Medicine for the establishment of a national bureau of health is a matter of more than ordinary interest and importance.

The view taken by this representative medical body of the metropolis is that the public health is a national affair, to be dealt with by the nation rather than the several states, and a matter which calls for the services of physicians rather than politicians.

This view has been embodied in a bill which takes quarantine entirely out of state control and politics and vests it in a federal administrative board of medical men. The bill is to be presented to congress when it next meets, and its enactment will be urged, not only by the academy of this city, but also by co-operating medical societies throughout the country.

Menaced as the nation may be at any time by cholera or some other epidemic, it would seem to be but the part of common prudence to have the most efficient and effective quarantine system that can be devised. It cannot be claimed with any force that we have such a system now. The law passed last winter was a compromise. The quarantine established by it is a hybrid affair.—New York Herald.

The French in Siam.

If it were not that the elections were coming on in France and that no French ministry dare ask for a heavy grant of money and 5,000 troops for a Tonquinese expedition, we should think the situation very serious indeed. Siam might be struck to the ground in six weeks. The French do not, it is true, do this kind of work as well as we do, for their conscripts die like flies, and their colored troops are liable to panics, but there is no solid strength whatever to support the Siamese throne. There is an army, but it will not beat even if it will face French regulars. It has been organized in imitation of European plans, which means that it has lost its national strength without gaining strength from science, and it has no tested leaders to whom it is devoted. It will be beaten we may be sure if the hour of conflict arrives and the war is really waged with France, and of popular insurrection there is but a slender hope. The court of Siam once beaten will submit, as the court of Hue did, and thenceforward everything will go on smoothly, with a French resident as virtual king of Siam.—London Spectator.

This Postmaster Won't Get Out.

There is a man at Mount Tabor who thinks he is "bigger than old Cleveland." He is the postmaster, who holds the fort in spite of the appearance of Miss Thayer with her commission. Miss Thayer got her commission Saturday, with orders to take possession. On Tuesday she presented her commission and proposed to take charge, but Mr. Brubaker refused to turn over the office, on the ground that she was going to remove it to another place, and a remonstrance against such removal was in circulation. Again on Wednesday Miss Thayer went in and demanded the office. He then said he would turn it over as soon as he could complete the inventory and would be ready Thursday morning; but on Thursday he refused to turn it over at all, and so the matter stands.—Portland Oregonian.

Genuses From Georgia.

We had the electric girl from Georgia, who astounded the universe. Then came the muscular girl from Georgia, whose performances amazed the land. The whistling girl from Georgia, the hypnotic girl from Georgia, were further variations of the delightful theme. The list has just been increased by the shooting girl, who caused the death of a Russian peddler a few days ago. We do not know why Georgia should develop such monstrosities. It is a healthy state.—Jewish Messenger.

Getting Ready For an Arctic Expedition.

The Norwegian explorer, Dr. Nansen, who is soon to start on another expedition to the north pole, has been preparing himself for coming hardships by sleeping as often as possible during the winter in a tent on his place near Christiania. Several members of his expedition have endeavored to harden themselves by passing the nights in the open air with only wolfskins as coverings.

UNCLE SAM MAY AID LIBERIA.

Our Government Urged to Prevent the Encroachments of France.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 11.—Alfred Benedict King, World's fair commissioner from Liberia, whose home is at Monrovia in that country, was a passenger on the Columbia flyer over the Pennsylvania railroad. He had just left Washington, where he had gone at the instance of his government to interview President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham respecting a matter that may cause the United States and France to lock horns in a dispute which will command at least the earnest attention of the diplomats of both countries. The commissioner in an interview said:

"We have a grievance and a very serious one. France is not only encroaching upon our territory, but has actually absorbed considerable of it, both inland and coast. We are an independent government, but we are not strong enough to cope with as powerful a nation as France."

"I was instructed to visit Washington, and if possible confer with the president and the secretary of state respecting assistance. I had a long talk with Secretary Gresham, and explained the situation in detail. He assured me that our interest should receive attention as soon as the Samoan affair is disposed of. The cabinet held a meeting Thursday concerning the Liberian matter, but I am not at liberty to divulge the result. I think, though, I can state consistently that United States will espouse our cause."
